Real Data Sources

Every club, notice and event now in the system, and where it came from

September 2026

1. What this document is for

The sample data this project shipped with was invented. Six clubs that do not exist, ten events nobody held, and eight notices nobody published. That was enough to make the screens look occupied while the system was being built, and not enough to show what the system is for.

This document records the replacement of that sample data with real material taken from United International University's own public pages, and it exists so that one question can always be answered: is this row real, and where did it come from?

Three categories are used throughout, and nothing is allowed to sit between them.

Category	Meaning
Sourced	Taken from a public UIU page. The title, the date and the wording are the university's. The address it came from is recorded next to it and stored in the row itself.
Assigned	A real thing that the university does not publish the detail of - which member of staff advises a club, for instance. The surrounding fact is real; the specific value is one this project chose, and is marked here.
Dated by us	A real, named programme whose next date has not been announced. The name is the university's; the date is a placeholder, and the event says so on its own page.

Nothing in the system is invented and presented as sourced. Where a detail could not be found it was left empty rather than filled in - the clubs, for example, have no meeting time or room, because UIU does not publish them.

1.1 How the data gets in

One command, which can be run again safely:

php artisan uiu:seed-uiu-data --dry-run
php artisan uiu:seed-uiu-data

It lives in app/Console/Commands/SeedUiuData.php, and every table in this document is also a constant in that file. The command and this document are meant to be read together: if they ever disagree, the command is what the database has.

Clubs are matched by slug and notices and events by title, so a second run updates the rows rather than duplicating them.

2. Clubs

Source: https://www.uiu.ac.bd/campus-life/clubs-forums/ Retrieved: 21 September 2026 Category: Sourced (name, description, Facebook page) · Assigned (category, moderator)

All 24 clubs, forums and societies UIU lists are now in the system. The six invented ones are archived rather than deleted, because events, posts and membership rows point at them; they no longer appear anywhere in the interface.

The description of each club is shortened from the university's own wording, and the club's Facebook address is stored with it, so anybody can check the row against the source.

2.1 What was assigned rather than sourced

Category. UIU lists its clubs as one flat list. The system groups them - Technology, Culture, Career, Academic, Sports, Community - so the directory can be filtered. The grouping is this project's.

Moderator. UIU does not publish which member of staff advises each club. Each club is given a moderator round-robin from the faculty and office accounts already in the database. Replacing one is a super administrator's job, on the club page.

Meeting time and place. Not published, so left empty. The club page simply omits the line.

Logos. The university's club logos could not be collected: they are on Facebook pages and in image files this project has no way to fetch, and they belong to the clubs. Every club therefore shows the generated initials badge until somebody uploads the real one. Two ways to do that:

- On the club page, hover the logo and choose Change logo - open to the moderator, the student panel, and a super administrator.

- Or put the files in storage/app/seed-logos/ named after the club's slug - uiu-debate-club.png, uiu-robotics-club.png and so on - and run the command again. It picks up anything it finds and leaves clubs without a file alone.

3. Notices

Source: https://www.uiu.ac.bd/notice/ Retrieved: 21 September 2026 Category: Sourced (title, date) · Assigned (type, priority)

Twelve notices, with the titles and dates the university board carries. Each row's body states the publication date and links to the full notice, so the system points at the original rather than copying it - the attachments, the tables and the signatures stay where they belong.

The row's created_at is set to the real publication date, not the import date, so the board sorts the way the university's does.

3.1 What was assigned rather than sourced

Type and priority. The system files notices under ten types and three priorities so they can be filtered. UIU's board does neither. The mapping here is this project's reading of each title: an exam schedule is urgent, a holiday notice is not.

Audience. Every imported notice is addressed to everyone. UIU's notices are often narrower than that in practice, but the board does not state the audience in a way that could be read automatically.

Bodies. The full text is not copied. Each notice carries its date and its address, and the reader follows the link.

4. Events

Source: https://www.uiu.ac.bd/event/ Retrieved: 21 September 2026 Category: Sourced (title, dates, club)

Twelve events with the titles and dates from the university's events page. Most are in the past: that page is an archive, and this project is not in a position to know what has not been announced yet.

4.1 The upcoming programmes, and why they are different

An events page showing only things that already happened is not much of a demonstration. So seven real, named club programmes were added with dates this trimester.

Every name below is real - each one is the signature programme its club names in its own description on the university page. No date below is real. UIU has not announced this term's edition of any of them. Each event says so in its own description on its page in the system, in those words, so nobody reading the site is misled.

Programme (real name)	Club	Date shown (not real)
Shutter Stories - National Photography Exhibition	UIU Photography Club	about 9 days from seeding
Tech Quest	UIU Electrical and Electronics Club	about 13 days from seeding
Accounting Olympiad	UIU Accounting Forum	about 17 days from seeding
The Excelist	UIU Finance Forum	about 21 days from seeding
English Edge	UIU English Language Forum	about 24 days from seeding
Hult Prize at UIU	UIU Junior Economists' Forum	about 28 days from seeding
Entrepreneurship 360 Degree	UIU Entrepreneur Development Forum	about 32 days from seeding

5. Academic calendar and departments

5.1 Trimester

Source: https://www.uiu.ac.bd/academics/calendar/ Category: Sourced

The system previously carried an invented trimester. It now carries the real one covering today:

Field	Value
Name	Summer 2026
Code	2026-SUM
First teaching day	4 July 2026
Last teaching day	22 October 2026

This is the undergraduate calendar. UIU publishes separate calendars for graduate programmes and for the Bachelor of Pharmacy, which runs on semesters rather than trimesters - Fall 2026 for B.Pharm. runs 3 August 2026 to 10 January 2027. The system holds one trimester at a time, so the undergraduate one was taken.

The dates matter beyond looking right: the class groups count down to twenty days after the last teaching day and then go read-only, so the countdown a student sees is now measured against the real end of term.

5.2 Departments

Source: https://www.uiu.ac.bd/academics/ Category: Sourced

UIU's four schools and one institute, and the departments under them, are the names the system now uses for the department field on an account and for the Department tab in the feed.

School	Departments
School of Science and Engineering	Computer Science and Engineering, Data Science, Electrical and Electronic Engineering, Civil Engineering
School of Business and Economics	Business Administration, Accounting and Information Systems, Economics
School of Humanities and Social Sciences	English, Environment and Development Studies, Media Studies and Journalism
School of Life Sciences	Pharmacy, Biotechnology and Genetic Engineering
Institute of Natural Sciences	(serves the schools above)

6. What is still invented, and deliberately so

Not everything in a demonstration should be real, and two things in particular must not be.

The people. Every account on the system is invented - the students, the faculty, the registrar desk. Real students' names, photographs, student numbers and departments are personal data, and putting them into a project database without their consent would be wrong whatever the project was for. The accounts live on the demo.uiu.test domain precisely so that one command can find and remove all of them.

The conversation. Posts, comments, private messages, marketplace listings and lost property are all invented. They belong to the invented people, and attributing a marketplace listing or a lost phone to a real student would be a small fabrication with a real subject.

Two further things are invented because there is nothing public to copy: club membership and panel designations, and the enrolment roster behind the class groups. Section 7 covers what would replace the latter.

7. What would make this better

This is the list worth reading if the project continues.

7.1 The roster API

The single largest improvement. The class groups, enrolment, the Department and My Batch feeds and the academic deadlines all currently run off a CSV that somebody exports by hand. Everything downstream of it already goes through one class, App\Support\GroupSync, so an API from the university would replace the CSV reader and nothing else. Until then the roster is the one part of the academic side that cannot be real.

7.2 Club logos and cover art

Described in 2.1. The blocker is not the code - the upload works, and the command picks files up from a folder - it is having the files. The quickest route is to ask each club for its logo, or to save them from the Facebook pages listed in section 2 and drop them into storage/app/seed-logos/.

7.3 A notice feed rather than a copy

The notices currently link back to uiu.ac.bd. A better version would read the university's notice page on a schedule and keep itself in step - the titles, dates and links are all in a consistent shape on that page, so a small importer running nightly would work. That also removes the need to re-run a seeding command whenever the board changes.

7.4 Real club officers

The panel handover feature is built and works, but the panels in the system are invented. Real panel lists exist - the clubs publish them on their own pages - and importing even two or three would make the feature demonstrate itself instead of needing to be explained.

7.5 Permission to use the university's marks

The name, the logo and the club logos belong to UIU. For a course project this is not usually raised, but if the system is ever shown outside the course or deployed anywhere public, that permission is worth having in writing first.
